SUPER SPEEDER LAW

Speeding Will Cost You

The new law titled HB160 tacks-on another two-hundred-dollar state-fee for any driver convicted of speeding at 75-or-more on any two-lane roads... OR convicted of speeding at 85-and-over anywhere in Georgia. Those new state fees will be in addition to any local fines already in effect in the jurisdiction where the speeding offense occurs.

TAKE THE scenic route

Let Georgia's unique driving trails be your guide. Get off the interstates and travel the scenic routes to discover Georgia's rich heritage, southern charm, local restaurants, museums, unique shops, local theaters, and stunning scenery.

The ANTEBELLUM TRAIL offers a 100-mile trek through seven communities that escaped being burned during Sherman's march through Georgia. Stately, pillared mansions line the streets of historic communities such as Madison, Washington, and Eatonton. Visit Milledgeville and tour the Old Governor's Mansion, or observe Athens' famous double-barreled cannon before seeing "the town that time forgot," Old Clinton. AntebellumTrail.org

More than 300 species of birds seen across 100 miles of diverse, coastal habitats make the COLONIAL COAST BIRDING TRAIL a perennial favorite. At 18 different sites along Georgia's coast, from old rice fields to salt marshes, an incredible diversity of winged life can be discovered. Watch an eagle soaring over Melon Bluff Nature and Heritage Center in Sunbury and enjoy a host of 18th and 19th century historical places that provide the framework for the trail. GeorgiaWildlife.com

The PEACH BLOSSOM TRAIL showcases the state's illustrious, and delicious, fuzzy fruit. This famous region of orchards produces 100 million pounds of peaches each year and is home to more than 1.6 million peach trees. In the spring, the trail is a beautiful tapestry of delicate pink and white blossoms, while the summertime offers the ripe fruit for feasting. Stop by a roadside stand or pick your own. Formed back in the 1920's, historic Augusta is the starting point for the WOODPECKER TRAIL. A variety of natural, historical, and agri-tourism opportunities can be found, including everything from Georgia's state parks and historic sites to the home of the world-famous Vidalia sweet onion. Adventurers can camp in Magnolia Springs State Park in Millen, with crystal-clear, natural springs, or explore the Okefenokee National Wildlife Refuge. WoodpeckerTrail.com

The SOUTHERN HIGHROADS TRAIL features a wide variety of antique shops, arts, entertainment, dining, unique lodging, and outdoor activities. Discover why Ellijay is Georgia's Apple Capital; experience a Bavarian alpine village in Helen; lose yourself in the spectacular sights surrounding Tallulah Gorge in Tallulah Falls; and go tubing on the Chattahoochee River. Local vineyards offer relaxation and blossoming viniculture. A plethora of lakes and state parks along the trail offer unparalleled natural opportunities.

GEORGIA'S CIVIL WAR Commemorate the 150th Anniversary

Georgia is commemorating the 150th Anniversary of the Civil War from 2011-2015. From Chickamauga, the second bloodiest battle of the war, to Andersonville, the most notorious prison camp of the war, Georgia has a wealth of battlefields, cemeteries, arsenals, museums, mansions, and stories.

Use this map to travel the BLUE AND GRAY TRAIL, which extends from Chattanooga to Atlanta, to see more than 60 battlefields, national parks, and museums.

Visit GACivilWar.org to learn about all the events happening across Georgia in commemoration of the Sesquicentennial.
